

What Information Do We Collect?

When you visit our Website, you may provide us with two types of information: personal information that you voluntarily disclose that is collected on an individual basis; and information collected automatically when you use our Website or the services available on our Website (collectively, the “Information”).

What is Personal Information?

Personal information is collected only when voluntarily offered and solely for purposes that are clearly identified on our Website. Personal information means any information that is unique to you, such as your:

Name

Username

Password

E-mail address

Cryptocurrency address

Mailing address

Other personal information you choose to provide

By providing us with your personal information, you also consent for us to collect, hold, use and disclose your personal information in accordance with this Privacy Policy. In addition to providing the foregoing information, if you choose to correspond further with us through e-mail or through the “contact” section of our Website, we may retain, use and disclose the content of your messages together with your e-mail address and our responses.

How do we collect information from our users?

Our ability to collect and store information about you depends on the pages you visit, the activities you choose to participate in and the provided services. For example, you may be asked to provide information when you register for access to a certain part of our website or we might request some specific characteristics in bulletins, content, products or when you make a purchase. You may provide information when you participate in a lottery, in competitions, comments, chat rooms, webinars, free materials, when you communicate with a support center, etc.

As most websites, we also collect information automatically and through electronic tools which can be transparent for our visitors. For example, we may use a cookie in order to recognize and store information from your visit. Among other things, a cookie can save your user name and password, which will spare you the need to input information every time you visit the site. Apart from that, we can control how many times you will see a specific advertisement during visits to our site or on ad channels in order to make your visit more pleasant and useful for you.

You can opt not to provide us with information in some instances, such as by refusing to accept cookies, but if you do that, you might restrict your access to some parts of our site, or you might have to type again your user name and password.

What Information is Collected Automatically?

When you use our Website or services available on our Website, we automatically collect information from your devices. We collect the following information:

- Server Log Information: We collect server log information when you use our Website, which may include (but is not limited to) your login details, the date and time of visits, the pages viewed, your IP address, time spent at our Website and the websites you visit just before and just after our Website.
- Device Information: We collect information about the computer or mobile device you use to access our Website, including the hardware model, operating system and version, the web browser you use, and other device identifiers.
- Telemetry Information. If you use any of our open source software, we may collect bandwidth upload and download speeds, the amount of free and used storage space on your device and other statistics about your device.
- Usage Information. If you use our Website, we will collect metadata about the files you upload for storage and we will record instances in which you have used your private key to authenticate communications.
- Information Collected by Cookies and Other Tracking Technologies: We and our service providers use various technologies to collect information when you interact with our Website, including cookies and web beacons. Cookies are small data files that are stored on your device when you visit a website, which enable us to collect information about your device identifiers, IP address, web browsers used to access the Website, pages or features viewed, time spent on pages, mobile app performance and links clicked. Web beacons are graphic images that are placed on a website or in an email that is used to monitor the behaviour of the user visiting the website or sending the email. They are often used in combination with cookies.
